

Chr. Powell: Based on what I have read and my knowledge of business interests in their companies' bottom line, I do not recommend further consolidation of media companies. The FCC needs to remain to steward of public interest rather than private corporate interest in this matter.